Inspection/Verification Comments
Holding Cell A lock is disengaged so that it remains available as bathroom. Holding Cell B is locked and used as storage. Cell usage is for adults only. Juveniles can be cuffed via D rings on the bench in the processing area, which is secured and accessible via key card access only. Outside the processing area is Interview Room B, which has a locking mechanism. Presently, the locking mechanism is disengaged. Interview Room B also has a D ring affixed to the wall and is opposite the rear exit door. Juveniles may be held nonsecure in the administrative area's conference room. I had the opportunity to review the detention logs for the past 12 months. The log for November 2021 was amended to correctly show that juvenile was actually not held at all, but rather, cited and released in the field. There are zero incidents of juvenile being detained or confirmed. Accordingly, there are no JJDPA violations and no compliance issues. If the department restarts its practice to bring juveniles within the facility, I advised that it would be best practice to document on the secure detention log any incidents where a juvenile is placed in the processing room. There is no processing exception to the JJDPA's Jail Removal requirement.
